AR ART EXHIBITION ON-DEMAND

GerillAR

SUMMARY

GerillAR

The GerillAR art project is redefining the concept of the poster by using modern technology (AR). The idea behind the project is based on how people use and appreciate advertising spaces today. With the devaluation of poster art in our modern world, art posters no longer have a place in the city. What else could be used for the surface that contains the poster content? Why not use it to turn the streets of the city into an exhibition which is accessible to anyone quickly and easily?

All the posters were inspired by Budapest city. After the viewer scan the posters, together with the artist, he can see the built or organic environment in Budapest, history, or even site-specific characteristics of the site.
